Our overhauling friend before walked 20 miles from Belle Glade to Pahokee and back so that little Carmen Dimes at the right and others like her would be able to live would Mrs. Miss Dimes, the National March of Dimes Poster Girl in 1972, visited the Glades last week to help promote the revised annual Glades Walkathon. She was honored at the Belle Glade Country Club co-sponsored by the city of Belle Glade and the Palm Beach County March of Dimes. Miss Dimes is now officially the international good will ambassador for the March of Dimes. She has traveled all over the world telling people about the work the March of Dimes does in the field of birth defects. And while Miss Dimes will never be able to turn a cartwheel, the fact that healthy youngsters like the one below got out and walked this weekend means a better chance for someone less fortunate to one day take at least one step at a time. For more pictures on the Walkathon please turn to pages 14 and our Home Front page 18.

But Ambulance Approved

Belle Glade Loses Fight To Alter Hospital District

Glades General Hospital will get the authority to subsidize ambulance service but not the hoped for charged tax base to pay for it.

Members of the Palm Beach County Legislative Delegation Tuesday readily agreed to approve a bill allowing the hospital's board of trustees to subsidize ambulance service.

But when it came to moving the hospital district's boundary north of the Belle Glade City Limits to Broward Highway, the legislators flatly rejected the idea.

Rep. Bill James, in moving to approve the boundary change, said it amounts to annexation and said the legislators decided last year not to deal with annexation or de-annexation cases unless both parties are in agreement.

Let's not give hope to either side, James said. He said he didn't intend to sit as a judge over the matter. Sen. Philip Lewis agreed this was the easiest way out.

The delegation took their action following a series of presentations by officials representing both the viewpoints of Glades General and Everglades Memorial Hospitals.

While they rejected the proposed bill, the legislators urged the two boards of trustees of the hospitals to meet with each other in an attempt to come up with an "equitable" solution.

Before James made his move, Delegation Chairman Ray Montford and other legislators were discussing the possibility of giving the two boards of trustees a deadline to reach a decision.

Sen. Chester Bledsoe suggested to board chairman Lee Berryhill of Glades General and Stanley Hooks of Everglades Memorial they could better work out a solution than the legislative delegation.

Berryhill said he was willing to meet with the Pahokee hospital board but felt the question was political while Hooks said he too was willing to meet with the Glades General trustees.

Hooks said, however, he didn't know "where we can give because we do represent the tax payers of the district."

"We also represent these taxpayers," Montford said, "and what they really decide may not suit you so I advise you to make an honest attempt to work out a compromise."

No date for such a meeting, or series of meetings, was set but after the hospital officials left the delegation meeting, Hooks and Berryhill agreed the two boards should work together.

"We're both of us Latachatchee," Hooks said, "and if we don't stick together and help each other out, no one else is."

There was some talk about the possibility of consolidating the two western hospital districts into one district. The two bills had been proposed by the Glades General Hospital Board of Trustees.

The 1974 Billy Season got off to an early start just eight minutes after midnight as 400-odd motorists, when an anonymous tipster phoned Belle Glade Police headquarters he said, saw a "flying saucer" in the sky.

The speaker didn't describe the "saucer" or say which school bus Sgt. William King said he had patrolmen check the school in the city on the off chance someone had seen something.

"What do we do if we find one," one patrolman radioed back, "call the Broward Patrol to deport them as illegal aliens?"

Trustees following a series of meetings in November and December which were triggered by an announcement ambulance service in the district would be stopped unless subsidies were made available.

Terry Moss, who has been operating the ambulance service in the Southwestern Palm Beach County Hospital District for 15 months, said he would need at least $16,000 per year to stay in business.

In a meeting with the Belle Glade City Commission, city commissioner Bill Bailey proposed the city help out temporarily and the legislative delegation should be approached to move the district's northern boundaries north to a more equitable location.

Following the Belle Glade meeting, the Palm Beach County Commission and the South Bay City Commission followed suit, both by offering temporary help in the form of subsidy and supporting the boundary change bill.

The boundary change, according to testimony before the legislative delegation Tuesday, would have transferred some $25 million worth of taxable property from the northwest hospital district to the southwest district.

The additional property, taxed at 4.1 mills, would have brought an additional $100,000 per year income to the operation of Glades General Hospital.

Glades General Hospital Director Ben Clarke told the legislators the Glades General Board of Trustees had also taken into account the bonded indebtedness of Everglades Memorial.

He said the southwestern district would have been compensated for the revenue being raised by the disputed bond which is being used to pay off the bond, which will be retired in 1993.

Clarke said the southwest district may have to raise its millage rate to pay for the $18,000 in subsidies to be paid Moss for ambulance service.

Sen. Philip Lewis said there is another reason the two boards of trustees should work together in the future.

"From the figures I've seen here," Lewis said, "both hospitals are going to have to expand in the near future and when you do, the Palm Beach County Area Planning Board will probably take a hand whether you like it or not."

Growers To Honor Conner At Dinner

Agriculture and its appreciation will be the theme Monday as Miss Sunflower tours Glades area agricultural facilities and local growers hold an appreciation dinner for Doyle Conner that night at the Clewiston Inn.

The 1974 Miss Sunflower is 18-year-old Catherine Jones of Jacksonville and is the acknowledged agricultural queen for the State of Florida.

Miss Jones will arrive in West Palm Beach at noon and will begin her tour of Glades agricultural facilities with a visit to the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida sugar mill at 2:30 p.m.

Following the tour of the sugar mill, Miss Jones will leave for Clewiston where she will see U.S. Sugar Corporation's prize cattle at Sugarland Ranch.

That night, Miss Sunflower will attend the appreciation dinner in honor of Florida Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner.

The dinner, scheduled for 7:30 p.m., is the product of a committee chaired by Jack Fry, Fry said residents of the Glades have wanted for years to hold a special dinner for Conner.

"We thought this would be a good time to thank this man for his outstanding contributions to the State of Florida," Fry said, "and especially for his strong support of Florida agriculture."

Commissioner Conner, the youngest Speaker of the House of Representatives in 1967, he said, "has served as Florida's Commissioner of Agriculture since 1969."

"We hope to have a very large turnout for the dinner," Fry said. Each ticket cost $20 and everyone in the Glades area is invited to attend."

Fry said tickets may be obtained from his office or from Bob Lee at U.S. Sugar Corp., Charles Schiele at Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida, from Frank Tosta of South Bay Growers or from William Rimmer of the Florida Sugar Cane League.

Conner has previously been honored as one of the nation's outstanding youths by Outdoor Writers of America in 1947, as one of five outstanding young men in Florida by the Florida Jaycees in 1950 and as one of ten outstanding young men in the nation by the U.S. Jaycees in 1951 as well as other awards.

He is a past president of the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture and a member of Florida Farm Bureau, Florida Cattlemen's Association and the Florida Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Sunflower received her title at the Florida State Fair, in Tampa Feb. 2-15. She represents Florida's multi-billion dollar agricultural industry.

Miss Jones, who makes her home in Jacksonville and is a freshman at Florida Junior College at Jacksonville Fair, a title she had won earlier.

Miss Sunflower, she is 18 years old.

South Bay continued to have problems with its new sewer system and continued to hear about it Tuesday night.

Take poor Tom Lanier, for example. City Commissioner Neal Mayo reported he had been invited over to the Lanier house to help mop up after Lanier's new sewer connection backed up on him and filled his house with sewerage.

Lanier reportedly dug up his own line he had laid to prove he had not hooked up incorrectly. A further investigation showed the problem to be elsewhere.

Lanier had hooked up properly to the stub at this connection. Unfortunately the stub had not been connected to the main line. So when the line and the stub filled up, that was the room there was.

The commission also heard reports that residents were using inferior pipe to hook up to the new system. When the commission heard the city had inspected and approved the inferior pipe, it promised to remedy the situation the very next day.

The Farmers Home Administration has set up specific requirements for the type of pipe which can be used in hooking up to the sewer. Copies of the regulation are available at city hall.

Even the equipment used to hook up to the sewer is causing a problem.

At present it is rented by the city for $15 per hour on the weekend to anybody who wanted to use it. Private contractors are complaining the city is in unfair competition with them. They say it is impossible for private enterprises to provide a back hoe and operator for $15 an hour, especially on the weekend when they are required by federal law to pay time-and-a-half.

Sewer wasn't the only problem discussed by the co-sponsored by the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services and the Florida State Fair.

All her activities are coordinated through the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services' Bureau of Market Expansion and Promotion, Division of Marketing.

South Bay City Commission Tuesday night.

The problem of finding a new mayor also came up. Commissioner Esther Berry said she felt a special election needed to be called. Vice Mayor Vernita Cox said she felt it nothing was worked out with resigned Mayor John Daston by the end of the week, then the election should be held.

A motion by Miss Berry that the city re-advertise for bids for a city manager died for a lack of a second. Miss Berry was not able to say why the three earlier applicants for the job had not been interviewed by the commission.

Yes, several people guessed it. Last week's mystery merchant was Charles Ward of White's Auto. "I had three people waiting on us when I opened the door the next morning," Ward reported. Those lucky three received gift certificates from the Main St. merchant. And you too can win valuable gift certificates if you can identify this week's mystery merchant on page 8B of today's Belle Glade Herald. And we'll even give you a hint: he runs one of the 14 businesses advertising on the page. If you recognize him take his picture down to his place of business and he'll give you a gift certificate if you are one of the first three people to identify him or her.

It Was A One Eyed One Horn Flying Purple...

It would have been an expensive proposition to deport the "illegal alien" reported in Belle Glade early Wednesday morning.

A lot of people are complaining you can't get anything for a dime anymore, what with inflation and all. That's not true. You can buy a three-cent stamp.

Well, We Tried

The Palm Beach County Legislative Delegation had some good news and some bad news for Belle Glade residents Tuesday.

The good news was that the bill enabling Glades General Hospital to provide for ambulance service will almost certainly be passed.

The bad news was that the same old inequitable northern boundary line of the hospital district, surrounded in 1949 in such a way as to give the Pahokee hospital a "fair share of savings" will remain the same.

That "fair share" now provides Everglades Memorial Hospital with some $100,000 a year income in an area where the residents are usually cared for by Glades General Hospital.

It means if someone in Ocala Center, or at Watson Ford, or an employee of Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida Sugar Mill, Florida Sugar Mill, or Atlantic Sugar Mill, gets hurt, Terry Moss will probably answer the ambulance call and Glades General will get the patient.

Everglades Memorial Hospital, however, will continue receiving the revenue.

One hope came out of the disappointment, however. There seemed to be a distinct atmosphere of cooperation between the board chairman and directors of the two hospitals after they had opposed each other before the county's legislators.

As Stanley Hooks, chairman of the Everglades Memorial Hospital board of trustees said, we're all west of Loxahatchee and if we don't help each other, no one else will.

That was proven by the way the legislative delegation turned down the proposed bill to make the boundary change.

It wasn't a judgment decision. The legislators just didn't want to get involved. Rep. Bill James showed them how to stay uninvolved.

James said the delegation agreed last year not to get involved in annexation or de-annexation affairs unless both parties agree on what they want.

That's like a judge deciding he doesn't care to become involved in a particular type of case, divorces or automobile accident settlement cases for instance, unless both parties agree.

If both boards of trustees agree the boundary lines were equitable, no one would have asked the legislators for a change.

James said he didn't want to offer hope to either party...and he didn't. He killed the hopes of people in the Southwest hospital district and the people of Pahokee don't have to hope any longer. They have exactly what they wanted.

James' non-decision was a decision in the northwest hospital district's favor and if this is typical of the help we can expect from our legislators, we'd better carefully consider any offers the Pahokee hospital board makes.

We sure won't get it from James and the other delegates.

"Chief, We're Picking Up Some Nice Comments About Your Statement In Favor Of Individual Privacy"

Washington Takes Notice

To: Mr. Jones, Editor

Thru: Mr. Laney, Publisher

Dear Mr. Jones:

I recognize that Letters to the Editor are expected to be succinct from the eyes of the publisher; however, from the publisher's perspective, I hope you will accept the necessity of observing fiscal channels as I express some admiration, as well as concern, with reference to your editorial approach.

My only qualifications for commenting on this communication are (1) I am an avid out-of-town reader of your publication; (2) I have visited Belle Glade and met a fair cross-section of your well-informed populace; and (3) I have always had a hidden desire to write a true Letter to the Editor. So-here goes.

Your editorial analysis of matters that concern your local area is as well-researched, carefully objective with little evidence of personal prejudice, and your spelling is exemplary. I sense a deliberate effort to detract from this erudite income in two, and possibly three respects. Your editorial corner, with the caricature in the Will Rogers tradition, just isn't compatible. Second, in one of your serious moments some months ago, you went to some detail in pointing out that you just didn't feel that your home town subscribers were ready yet for either news or editorial comment on a national level. I really expected that you would get a local reaction to this evaluation of the breadth of interest of your readers; but, since the citizens of Belle Glade won't defend their community in an instant, I most humbly suggest that perhaps you have under-rated your knowledge, but not seeing the forest for the trees.

Forgive me if the third point is too sensitive for consideration, but, when I spoke of objectivity above, it is necessary to assure that there is continuity of objectivity. Your publisher, whom I love to heckle, did "go national" at the time ex-V.P. Agnew resigned. His Publisher's Corner comments were very forthright, but he did not make any reference to page 9 of the Newsweek magazine then on the stand, which stated that we, the public, should be on the lookout for the latest method of recycling public figures as they became obsolete-income tax charges. After all, that would have been the perfect flip of coin; and perhaps it was a family affair, perhaps just as there have suggestions of faulty tape recorders.

Thanks for your consideration in reading this (if you did). Having done my duty in support of media integrity, I can now retreat to the comfort of my home, where your problems are not mine.

Sincerely,

Glenn H. Laney, Sr.

Going Crackers Over 20 Miles And $24,000

We have met the enemy and it was 20 miles of highway between Pahokee, sun, blisters and wind but enough of us prevailed again to fill the coffers for the March of Dimes.

I should say enough of the walkers prevailed. Personally I generally revealed by walking from my car to the checkpoints along the Second Annual Glades March of Dimes Walkathon.

There were the expected blisters, sore feet and stiff legs when it was over but there were a few surprises too, mainly the distance some of the local citizenry walked.

I'll have to admit I was pleasantly surprised to see Belle Glade Mayor Aubrey Farmer ride shank's mare all the way into Pahokee...and I'll have to admit Aubrey looked pretty good at the end of 10 miles.

The self proclaimed oldest man to leave Belle Glade was Glades Central Teacher Sam Lovell. Like Sam, I think quite a few of the adults who made all or part of the walk had forgotten how far ten miles is when you hoof it every step of the way.

But I don't know of any of the groupings who fall out before they made Pahokee, although Ralph Kirk did stop after he reached Hooker Highway. He said something about a golf date.

But at least Aubrey and Bill Grear made the full ten miles one-way trip...so the Belle Glade City Commission has to take the first place when it comes to miles walked after the vaunted race between Pahokee Mayor Duncan Padgett and Council women Wynona Cummings was cut short at the Airport Checkpoint.

And then there was the highly touted challenge between Bill Mallory and Channel 5 newscaster Van Hackett. Bill made it to Pahokee and all the way back to the Hooker Highway checkpoint before being picked up by Hackett, who hadn't even worked up much of a sweat when he jauntily strode back to the Belle Glade and with his escort of teenagers.

I really believe Bill would have made it all the way but he was walking on determination alone and the last time I saw him on the road it would have taken time.

I think Bill surprised a few other people as much as he did me. One question though, Bill, What're you going to do next year for an escort?

One other question...if there had been a city commission meeting Monday night, I wonder if there would have been any absences.

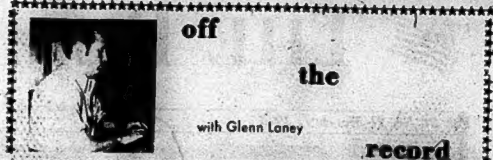

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

I'll bet the drugstores did a land-office business in omelet salts Saturday night. I know Carl Scott's Grants told me he'd donated a supply of Band-aids that were put to good use.

Had a letter from Glenn's last week that you can find elsewhere on this page.

I've never met him but after hearing a couple of the tapes he sends Glenn and reading excerpts of some of his letters to Glenn, I've gotten the distinct impression of a witty, knowledgeable person and his letter bears that impression out.
Delighted to hear from you, Mr. Laney, but I've got one thing to say about your statement in the "Caricature in the Will Rogers off the record

with Glenn Laney

Things have been really jam up and jelly tight for Tommy (Joe Athlete) Altman over at the city hall annex over since "Old Man Mallory" went walked him this weekend.

Tommy, who was just recently voted the city planner most likely to make it on the professional golf tour, could only make it to Pahokee in the second annual Glades Walkathon Saturday. Meanwhile, Bill Mallory, his boss, walked all the way to Pahokee and then back to within three miles of Belle Glade.

But Tommy was undaunted. He said he was heading right out to the golf course for more training.

Just wait till next year, eh Tommy?!

Of course, I had the Walkathon to contend with in my own home as well. Friday my eight year old daughter Kristine decided she wanted to walk. So she goes merrily dashing about the neighborhood gathering sponsors. I told her whatever total she could raise I would match.

The neighbors took $125 worth of action, so I did too. I never really expected her to get much past Rardin Park-if she got that far.

So about 10:30 or so I hopped in the car and went out looking for her, expecting to find her sitting by the roadway, shoes off, waiting for her father to come along and pick her up.

I fully expected to find her somewhere between Belle Glade and Rardin Park-and surely she would be bringing up the rear of the Belle Glade contingent. Chagrine changed to a little bit of worry as I passed Rardin Park, passed several people headed toward Pahokee and passed the six mile mark without seeing hide nor hair of her old blue jeans, blond hair and sweat shirt.

But finally, there over the horizon, she appeared-six-and-a-half miles from her starting point! Not only was she not giving up, she was intent at that point in time on going the entire distance.

To make a long story short, two miles later she finally did flag down the poop-out truck, but not until after she had proven to her father she was made of a lot sterner stuff than he ever thought possible.

That's a quick $20 the neighbors and I are out.

Of course, the pot shouldn't call the kettle black. I shouldn't really have gotten on Tommy Altman so rough at the start of this column.

After all, he can rightly point out that this writer walked 10 less miles than he walked. But then, I had several bona fide reasons for not doing so. Or at least, they seemed pretty good to me. But I will run just one by you. I told Marjorie Echols at the beginning of this year's March plans that if she could raise $100 a mile I would walk all around the lake. That's about 115 miles and would raise over $11,000 for the March of Dimes.

Now, I'm sure she just didn't have the time to raise that amount of money since my offer was made in early February. So I'll give her a head start this year.

If she can get pledged $100 a mile before Sept. 1 of this year, next year I will walk around the lake. That will give her six months to raise the money and me a final six months to get in shape.

Something to think on for next year!

Our 10 mile is back.

To many casual observers of The Belle Glade Herald that doesn't mean much. But to you people who study us closely you have noticed we have been using much larger type in some of our editorials and continue.

This is because one of the plastic strips of type we use on our computer to set type for the paper rolled over, kicked up its heels and died two weeks ago.

So in the meantime we used type about 20 percent bigger and 50 percent bolder than normal. At times it looked real good-at others it detracted rather than helped.

But now the normal-type size, that is-for the time being. Thanks for sticking with us.

Working Women Oppose ERA

Dear Editor:

May I point out to you what is behind the much-buried reversal and recent endorsement of the Equal Rights Amendment by the National AFL-CIO Convention. This resolution was introduced by the Newspaper Guild, second of factory producers Union and passed with no dissent.

Women who work at desks or blackboards, where the heaviest loads they lift may be a pile of papers or a few books, are not representative of factory producers and workers who need protection of present laws, such as those limiting loads women must lift. The unbalanced but only minority of ERA proponents-smooth-talking college women who have never even seen a factory production line-parrot the claim that some women can lift up to 75 lb, and should have the "opportunity" to work alongside men.

In their eagerness to, perhaps, get their boss, job or office manager, they are most generous in giving away those precious distinctions so badly needed by their harder-working sisters on the assembly line. When they point out that mothers, early HR, 50 lb children, they do not rest or care that this is not like consistently lifting 80 lbs. on an assembly line all day long.

We Women in Industry want the ERA, but we want it for a better reason than anyone else that we are simply not physically equal to men, but ERA presents no distinction.

Due to the incessant agitation of a few women "libbers", some States like Ohio have already rescinded much protective legislation for women, yet other States still have none.

Colorado previously passed a State Equal Rights Amendment in 1973, the Colorado amendment held in Colorado vs. Elliot that under Colorado's ERA, fathers possess equal support their families. So in addition to swelling tax-supported welfare, a National Equal Rights Amendment would force women into factory production jobs without statutory workload limitations whatsoever.

I ain't too sure if that makes me "compatible" neither. I try not to get involved in politics or religion but I do try to get along with everybody-even competitors, whatever they are. Then, you talk about one of my serious moments. All seriousness aside, I ain't never have one of them neither.

I will go along with you on one thing, though. I do have a publisher we both love to heckle. 'Course he's eminently hecklable. As a matter of fact, Glenn Laney is one of the most heckled men I know. But I'll say this for him. We both love to stand around and cuss the gov'mint, whether it's local, state or national so I guess we both got national now and then. I can remember what I've said about Nixon-burners and everybody's eating Nixon-burners nowadays.

But thanks for the letter, and y'all come and see when I can. We crackers are hospitable and we like visitors-even from the North.

A Tour Of Italy And It's Food

The Upsilon chapter of Phi Beta Sigma Sorority held its annual progressive dinner with an Italian theme this year.

Members paid 25 cents for their party invitations at the meeting preceding the dinner and these passport invitations were presented at the Leonard Da Vinci Airport, better known as the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Oren.

While visiting with "yellow passports" on this imaginary trip to Italy, hors d'oeuvres of stacy meatballs, cheese and crackers and a burgundy punch were served.

The flight then took off for the sidewalk cafe in Piazza del Popolo or the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Blitch, Architectural columns lined the doorway to the home and upon opening the door, guests were greeted by a room lit only by candlelight.

Red cloths draped each table for four which were also decorated with Italian flag name cards, chianti bottle candles and gold baskets of fresh fruit. The menu included spaghetti with meatballs, bread sticks, tossed salad and cold duck wine.

The dessert stop was at the Trevi Fountain, or home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Varnell. Two round lawn sprinklers were turned on near the front door to simulate fountain.

Inside, guests enjoyed spaghetti, cream, cookies, soft drinks and the Varnell pool table. The Phil Orens won the money which had been collected from the sale of the party invitations.

Those attending the night in Italy were Mrs. Dot Averill, Mr. and Mrs. James Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Keene, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Oren, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schoenfeld, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Zumpf, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Blitch, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kirby, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shuttles, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Stokes and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Varnell.

GUSTAVO TAMES AND MRS. ZORAIDA PEREZ CHECK WORK of bilingual students at Lake Shore Elementary School.

An Aid In Education And Pride

If Johnny Has It Tough What About Juanito?

If Johnny has a tough time reading, why poor Juanito. He has it even tougher.

For the first time, Juanito is getting some extra help for his school handicap, at least in five Glades area schools, in the form of a bilingual program designed to help Spanish-speaking students cope with an English-speaking school system.

Juanito's handicap, in many cases, is that he just doesn't understand English. Many Spanish-speaking children come from homes where Spanish is the only language spoken because their parents only know Spanish.

Even if little Juanito does speak a little English, he has a major handicap because he received instruction in English, not in Spanish.

And if he doesn't speak enough English to understand the instruction, he has a problem—a real problem. He is left in the academic dust of his classmates.

Just this year, the Palm Beach County School system has offered its own solution in the west area in the form of a bilingual program designed to help the Spanish-speaking children understand classroom instruction.

The results, according to school officials, have been astonishing. Since school began, one boy has jumped from a failing grade to the top of his class and, these kids hardly ever miss a day now.

According to one Lake Shore official:

The program at Lake Shore is headed up by Mrs. Zoraida Perez, who teaches eight sections of students in small groups, totaling 30 Spanish-speaking children.

Gustavo Tames, program resource teacher for the west area said Mrs. Perez stresses oral language development areas.

Besides what it has done for the students, Tames said the program has also, for the first time, gotten the students' parents involved in the school.

These children's parents never came to parent-teacher group meetings before the program started, Tames said, because the meetings were carried on in Spanish.

He said Dec. 17 marked the first meeting held for the parents of Spanish-speaking students and said the response was overwhelming.

One objection came from several parents who didn't at first understand what the program was all about. Tames said several parents were protesting the use of Spanish in the program because they wanted their children to be able to use English.

"They wanted their children to be able to compete here in the United States," he said, "but we assured them that was the whole idea."

"But we also want them to be aware of and proud of their own culture," Tames said. He said second generation Spanish-speaking students have had a tendency to reject their own culture as inferior because English is the language spoken both in school and by the majority of their friends.

"When bilingualism is viewed as a liability," Tames said, "confidence and pride are destroyed, complicating even further the student's ability to learn and get involved. The learner rejects school, himself and society."

To offset the rejection, Mrs. Perez has formed a Spanish Club which meet each Friday during a one-hour activities period, giving the students a chance to meet socially and iron out their problems.

Tames said he is still looking for "teacher's aides" and instructional aides, who speak both English and Spanish, to help with the program.

"But it's hard to find someone with educational background who is bilingual and who will work for the salaries we can afford to pay," he said.

But at least Juanito is being given a chance.

766 Walk For Those Who Can't

$24,000 Pledged For 'Dimes'

An estimated 766 Glades residents, mostly kids and teenagers, battled sun, wind, blisters and 20 miles of heavily travelled road between Belle Glade and Pahokee Saturday to earn $24,000 for kids who can't walk.

Coordinator Mrs. Marjorie Echols said the Second Annual March of Dimes Glades Walkathon was a complete success, especially in light of the $3,532.40 pledged for the walkers.

Mrs. Echols said 407 people put their best feet forward at 8 a.m. Saturday at the Timesaver on SR715 and estimated 309 completed the 20-mile hike before the day ended.

At the same time, 359 members of the Blister Brigade left Pahokee and approximately 170 made the complete round trip.

At the same time, 359 members of the Blister Brigade left Pahokee and approximately 170 made the complete round trip.

The walkers, and runners for there were a number who ran most of the way, came in all ages, shapes and sizes. The age difference ran the gamut from three-year old Marc Davis to Belle Glade Mayor Aubrey Farmer.

Some walkers were barely able to make it to the first checkpoint at Hooker Highway and others breezed through the entire 20 miles without seeming to exert themselves.

There was a three-way tie for the first place trophy awaiting for the first place in both, Belle Glade and Pahokee but Mrs. Echols said four more trophies would be provided for the other first place winners.

The two big money-makers were Channel 5 TV newscaster Van Hackett and Belle Glade City Manager William Mallory III, who raised $4,000 between them.

Hackett was one of those who breezed across the finish line with a grin on his face and plans for dancing that night. Mallory made it back to the Hooker Highway checkpoint before walkathon officials persuaded him to ride the rest of the way.

Little Thomas Dean was once again in the winner's circle as he crossed the finish line first the second year in a row. He ran across the red carpet and through the paper barrier waiting for the first return walkers holding hand with Shawn Buchanan and Felix Rosario.

"That's it," he gasped. "That's the last time." But when asked about next year, he replied, "Well, maybe next year."

The three youngsters set the pace for the walkers, arriving in Pahokee at 10:35 a.m., an hour and forty-five minutes after leaving Belle Glade, and returned at 12:45.

By the time the three youngsters had reached Pahokee, the Belle Glade walkers were stretched over more than eight miles, with some just arriving at the Hooker Highway checkpoint.

Starting fresh, many of the walkers obviously were in high spirits but while many finished the same way, others wilted along the way.

Those who wilted became the eager customers of the Pop-out Pickup, either one of several cars, a caged truck and a truck loaded by National Guard unit based at the Belle Glade Armory.

One unexpected surprise, as welcome as it was surprising, was a non-scheduled refreshment center set up by and at Lake Equipment Co. north of Bardin Park.

By the time the last Belle Glade walkers had passed by on their way to Pahokee, the center had dispensed more than 800 cold soft drinks to thirsty hikers.

Electrical Free
Thousands of persons this year in home fires. Among the causes of these fires, faulty or overloaded electrical wiring takes more than their share. This is one fire source that can be avoided.
Among the warning signs of an overloaded system are lights dimming when an appliance goes on, a sizzling television picture, slow-blinking appliances, and fuses blowing frequently. Remember that when a fuse does blow, it should be replaced with the same size fuse. Never use a substitute such as a penny.
A sufficient number of electrical outlets should be available throughout the home to avoid using several electrical appliances on a single circuit. In addition, never use extension cords with appliances drawing large amounts of current such as refrigerators or freezers. Prevent damage to cords by not running them under carpets, through doorways, over radiators or heaters.

Bicycle riders—have hope!

Seems one group around this town is concerned for the safety of the ever-increasing number of bicyclists.

In their first meeting of last month, the Chamber of Commerce claimed as one of its goals for 1974 to establish a bicycle path for bike riders in the area. Now that's the best idea they've come up with in a long time. I don't know if anything will come of it but at least someone is thinking about the people who are trying to save gas or just riding for fun.

The only trouble is I'm not saving on tires. Last June I took part of my savings and splurged on a nice English Racer. Unfortunately, I didn't give the chance to use it as often as I would have liked.

You know what they say, either go to college or get a job. Well, I decided to hold off on college for awhile and got a job. Well I had to get used to the idea of waking up at 7:00 five mornings a week in the summertime (which wasn't easy) and working till midnight sometimes.

When I finally found time to ride it again both tires were flat. Not only were they flat but the tubes were messed up also.

I'm sure many others will agree that we do need a bicycle path—who likes to hear the loud honk of an automobile horn right in his ears and the loud screech of some drivers who don't have the courtesy to slow down a little while passing the bike riders.

The Glades Marchers did it again! Marjorie Echols reported an estimated $24,000 was raised by the Walkathon, which consisted of 766 marchers. That's pretty good compared to the 3,000 walkers on the coast who brought in $50,000.

Not pretty good, real good. I preferred to stand aside this year and just contribute money for the marchers. Still haven't gotten over from last year's walk. But next year I'll be rested enough and plan on making the full 20 miles, if it's not windy.

Glades bowlers can hold their heads high after the first weekend of competition in the Palm Beach County Men's Bowling Association tournament being held at the Delray Lanes. Three teams from the Glades are in the top 10. Palm Beach Electric Motors leads the way with a 3091 handicap series, good enough for sixth place county wide. Glades Music is ninth in the county with a 3034 series and U.S. Sugar, Clewiston, is right on their heels in 10th place with 3014 total.

The teams have only one week to go then the bowlers will participate in singles and doubles tournaments.

as Rev. Randall Parsons and chairman Lee Cranford finalize the study plans

Methodists Plan Mission

Members of the Belle Glade Community United Methodist Church are preparing for a New Life Mission program set to take place April 7-11.

A task group of members at the church are holding a series of several meetings to prepare for the mission and the church pastor, the Rev. Randall L. Parsons, will present a brief message to the congregation Sunday morning explaining some phases.

Rev. Parsons said Dr. George Foster of Tallahassee will be the evangelist at the mission.

Temple Beth Shalom News

by Arthur Nagler

The celebration of Purim this month means more than the commemoration of this particular escape from destruction through an unexpected deliverance. Israel's experience with "Haman" has repeated itself frequently in Jewish history.

Purim, which is celebrated annually 4th day of the Jewish month of Adar, commemorates the events related to graphically in the book of Esther. The word Purim means "lots," and the day is so called, after the lots cast by the Bad Haman, for the favorable time to carry out his evil intentions. In every generation, there have arisen those who would destroy. The reason for survival is in the fact of not living for ones self alone. This is the prime reason for continued existence and success in life. Unselfishness and pride in inheritance makes a people unconquerable. Our holidays remain as reminders of a history of strife, hardships and survival. A woman, Esther, is the heroine of PURIM and the Jewish Woman seems to have appropriated it for herself. The method of joyous celebration, her skills in the culinary arts (baking of Haman/Toshin) and her planning for gay merrymaking help to symbolize the unity. Pride and good fortune in home and the world. Look back, look at today and look forward for the reflection of all good fortune. The real spirit of this holiday is to add the general sum of happiness by remembering local and federal charities.

ALL GOOD POWER IS GOD'S POWER

To know God better is to learn more about the healing, uplifting availability of divine power.

Mrs. Mary Dunkley wishes to thank her many friends well-wishers and members of the St. John First Baptist Family, who made the Pastor Adams' 24th anniversary the "most outstanding numerically, spiritually, and financially of all of his 24 years of dedicated services."

A very "special thanks" to the culinary committee - "a job well done."

Believe... Good Way to Make Good Neighbors!

Today, the world is getting even smaller, now that we're looking at it from the Moon. Looks like we've just got to be good neighbors, if we want to be good lives.

Might as well start with the folks next door. Sure their dog barks too much and too loud. But, the dog is old and the people are a bit hard-of-hearing. So, you might be getting older, too, and a mile deaf to the bark.

Good way to make... and keep... good neighbors.

Sometimes the kids across the street swoop it up too much and turn your yard into a playground. But, they are young and their parents appear blind to their antics. Maybe you'd better be a little younger, too, or look the other way.

Good way to make... and keep... good neighbors.

That rood hog who cuts in front of your car... that boss who cuts down your best efforts... that show-off who cuts up at parties. Sure they're thoughtless and careless. But, patience can turn them into good neighbors.

Belief in the Almighty Presence and Plan will soften your hard line with understanding. Belief in America and democratic ideals will give you the strength to forbear. Belief in other people will make you a good neighbor, and help make them good neighbors, too.

So, as we move in for closer looks at the Moon and planets, maybe we ought to take closer looks at the folks on our own planet.

Good way to make... and keep... good neighbors.

You'll get the idea at your place of worship this week.

Tax Aids

this is the first in a series of five articles on 1973 federal income tax returns prepared as a public service by the Florida Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

Tax payers will find that the biggest surprise in the tax returns this year is the fact that they are easier to fill out. Less detailed information is required on both medical expenses and contributions to charity. Doctor, dentist and hospital payments can now be lumped and the total given without itemization. The same is true of cash contributions for which receipts or canceled checks can be produced if the IRS requests them.

In previous years tax payers were required to supply detailed information to be assigned by Uncle Sam in assigning revenue-sharing funds to local communities. This has now been built down to a space for the county of residence.

It is no longer necessary to use a separate form to allocate a dollar of one's tax payment (two dollars in the case of joint returns) to an election campaign fund to be drawn on by all political parties in future presidential races.

Now it's just a matter of checking a box on Form 1040. A second box to be checked if the taxpayer failed to allocate a dollar to the election fund last year but wishes to do so

Remember that mass of three or four V-belt pulleys under your car's hood to run generator, pumps and all the rest? It may soon be just one belt to run everything. Goodyear has a serpentine drive system that can do the job, they say. The belt is 8 feet long with five grooves. Said to have several advantages, including being easier to change for car owner than a flat tire.

Some states have new speed laws in 1974 to help cut gasoline use. It does make fuel go farther. The Federal Highway Administration says a late model car driven at 70 mph uses 30.5 percent more gasoline than when driven at 50 mph. A new national speed law probably will encourage everyone to drive slower.

No you don't have to change your antifreeze - that which you put in your windshield, washer tank. Just let it use up and keep filling it up for summer as well.

Remember to keep out of skids during cold or wet weather by driving with "light feet." ON slippery roads a heavy foot on the gas pedal or brakes is risky. Use your clutch gently too if you have one. For example, speed up as you approach a hill so you don't have to use as much power to climb it.

Mrs. Echols said the walkers will be the honored guests at a collection party scheduled for 5 p.m. Saturday at Rardin Park. She said the party will consist of music performed by the Glades Correctional Institution rock band and refreshments will include hot dogs, baked beans and soft drinks. This will also be the site of the payoff for the walkers, when they turn over the money they earned from sponsors by making the walk to the March of Dimes.

Sabia usted que...

El escrito que a continuación transcribo es tomado del libro publicado por el Directorio Magisterial Cubano en el Edilio "El Mensaje de Cuba-10 Biografías". Esperamos que pueda reconocer los valores del desinterés de vitalidad de este gran hombre.

Maximo Gomez nació en el caserio de Bani, en el Santo Domingo, en el año 1838 y murió en La Habana en 1904. A los dos años de haberse inscrito en la "República Cubana", constituyendo a su vez, un grupo de las mas grandes demostraciones de duelo que recuerda nuestro pueblo.

Maximo Gomez fue el último hijo del matrimonio formado por Andres Gomez Guerrero y T-LATINO, hay una personal encargada de orientarle y hacer que tu participación en este programa sea de agrado.

Manuel de Cespedes y otros patriotas en la provincia de Oriente.

Cuando Cespedes produjo el Grito de Yara, el 10 de octubre de 1895, Maximo Gomez se encabeza trabajando en un campo de maderas en el sur de Jiguani. Demora solamente nueve días en incorporarse a la revolución uniéndose a los hombres que comandaba Donato Marmol.

De inmediato dio muestras de gran valor y de su gran militar peleando a las órdenes de Donato Marmol, unas veces, y bajo su propia dirección otras, siempre con la idea de llevar la guerra hasta Occidente para que toda la Isla conociera y participara de ella.

Habiendo hecho suya la causa cubana, cual si hubiese nacido en esta tierra, y casado con la cubana "Manita Toro", en la zona de Jiguani, no solo peleó con arrojo y desprecio por su vida, sino que aceptó disciplinadamente la injusticia de Carlos Manuel de Cespedes con el cual, el destituyó del mando de las fuerzas de Oriente, que tantos exilios le habían logrado bajo su jefatura.

En esa oportunidad se retiró a las montañas y continuó peleando, con lealtad digna de imitación, por la libertad de su nueva patria. Si siquiera desear los de Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, como todos los grandes, era un espíritu noble y sabio, capaz de reconocer sus errores. Tal vez para rectificar la injusticia de la destitución de Maximo Gomez, y porque solo este podía salvar la guerra en Camaguey a la muerte de Ignacio Agramonte, decidió designar al dominicano Jefe de dicho Provincia. Y al llamarlo a su tienda para comunicarle la noticia, prefirió darle una explicación por la destitución anterior, lo que Maximo Gomez aceptó, diciendo: "Aquí tiene Ud. otra vez a su viejo soldado".

Que grandesa había en aquellos hombres que nos dieron la independencia!

Al frente de las aguerrias guerras organizadas por Ignacio Agramonte, Maximo Gomez obtuvo resonantes victorias, entre las que se destacan las de La Sagra y Palo Seco. Estos victoriosos combates llenaron de entusiasmo a los rebeldes cubanos. Maximo Gomez propuso entonces realizar su viejo proyecto de llevar la guerra hasta las provincias occidentales, invadiendo Las Villas.

El proyecto de Gomez no fue aprobado hasta 1874. En esa fecha una Junta de los jefes mas destacados, entre ellos el propio Gomez, Callisto Garcia, Antonio Maceo, y Vicente Garcia, acordaron que Maximo Gomez invadiera Las Villas al frente de un ejercito formado por villeros, camagueyanos y orientales. Para ese empeño recibió un refuerzo de 300 orientales mandados por Antonio Maceo.

Estados los españoles de los planes de Gomez enviaron contra el varias columnas, librando los grandes combates de Naranjo, Mojacañal y Las Guasimas, todos en territorio de Camaguey. Los cubanos salieron victoriosos, pero Gomez decidió aumentar sus fuerzas antes de llevar la guerra a Las Villas.

Y en enero de 1875 Maximo Gomez puso en marcha nuevamente su plan de invasión de Las Villas.

Cruzo victorioso la trocha o camino militar de Júcaro a Morón con unos mil hombres y penetró en la provincia villera.

En pocos días los instructivos de Maximo Gomez, y otras publicaciones fortísimas y obvias, vieron un valioso botín, consistente en pertrechos de guerra, caballos y monturas, incendios, ademas, ingenuos y canaavares para arruinar las fuertes de riquezas con que contaba el enemigo. Así la guerra fue llevada a la provincia de Matanzas.

Maximo Gomez fue nombrado en el Cabildo de Manicoré, en Las Villas, el General Jovellar trató de apresar, pero el valiente dominicano, con una imponente carga al machete logró abrirse paso y derrotarlo. Este combate se conoce con el nombre de combate del Cabildo Gonzalez.

En 1877 la Revolución entro en una etapa de completa decadencia que culminó con el Paz del Zanjón, un año después.

Maximo Gomez vuelve a su patria dominicana y comienza a reorganizar su vida familiar mediante el trabajo, pero sin olvidar a Cuba y esperando el momento oportuno para vengarse de nuevo las armas.

THE PUPPET GOVERNMENT
We've all heard of puppet governments, although most of us would not use that term to describe America. We do have a puppet government, though, with one big difference: in America we can pull the strings. When we take an active part in local and state affairs, when we support congressmen to whom we expect to pull the strings, when we support a political candidate for office and when we exercise our right to vote, we are pulling the strings. When we become passive, "sheep-like" Americans, we are giving someone else a chance to pull the strings—and we may not like the results. Let's keep our government on its feet by pulling the strings. We can do it by voting in the right direction.
